Music to the ears

CHILDREN and parents have the chance to spend some quality time together while raising money for a good cause these school holidays.

Boppin' Babies music groups for babies and toddlers is offering school holiday programs at Chermiside to raise funds for Sunrise Children's Villages in Cambodia.

The classes will run tomorrow with classes costing $10 per family for children aged under four, their siblings and carers.

Boppin' Babies director Vicky Abad said the 30 minute sessions would include singing, moving to music, playing instruments and musical play.

Mrs Abad said proceeds from the classes would support two orphanages in Siem Reap and Phnom Penh in Cambodia.

"There are children in Cambodia who don't have parents, let alone access to music in the home environment," Mrs Abad said.

"Our Christmas school holiday program will celebrate the role of parents and carers while helping to raise funds for two orphanages in Siem Reap and Phnom Penh which support hundreds of orphaned and disadvantaged Cambodian children."

BABES IN TUNE: Vicky Abad with charity music-makers Millie Sanfilippo, 2, Ryder Delaney, 10 months, Arwen Abad, 4, and Millie Sanfilippo, 2.

➔ The classes will be held at the River of Life Church Hall, 240 Hamilton Rd, Chermiside. Phone 0430 591 532, email info@boppinbabies.com.au or visit www.boppinbabies.com.au

Coming Up

Round Mountain Girls

Friday 28th January, 8pm

The Girls are furious, fast, and melodic in equal measure and tinged with humour. They'll make you dance and laugh and smile, but most of all they'll make you feel good... very good...and they'll make you want to do it again and again.

Admission: $15

Roy Orbison Tribute Show

Friday 11th February, 8pm

There are few Roy Orbison tribute shows around the world today. Not many performers have the vocal range that made Roy Orbison unique, those very few that have, don't sound like the Big 'O'. Athol Matcham has the range, the sound and the look, so don't miss his award-winning show!

Admission: $15

Sara Storer

Friday 18th February, 8pm

Country music's golden girl, Sara Storer, graces the Blue Pacific stage in this exclusive gig. With songs born from her real experiences, come and be taken on a journey and let Sara tell you a tale.

Admission: $28 Adults, $15 Children
